REPORT.

FOR the past two years the accession of books to the Library from all sources, deducting duplicates exchanged, (see Schedule I,) is 2,317 volumes—a falling-off of 385 volumes as compared with the two years preceding. This can be accounted for by the fact that our donations have decreased 200 volumes as compared with the two years preceding, while our purchases have decreased 331 volumes. Our receipts from exchanges, however, show an increase over the two preceding years. The decrease of purchases, especially for the miscellaneous department, may be accounted for by the fact that we have been compelled to expend $398 for books for the Supreme Court Commissioners' rooms and the Judges' consultation room. The increase of the number of Judges necessitated the consultation room; and of course a set of Supreme Court Reports, and, as far as possible, a set of Kansas Statutes and a set of Kansas Reports, were necessary for each Commissioner. The State owned but very few of the books necessary, and we were compelled to buy the most of them. No provision had been made for equipping these rooms with the necessary books, and no fund was available with which to purchase them; the result being that we were compelled to purchase them from the already inadequate library fund. Of course, as these books did not go into the Library, they are not scheduled with the purchases, and the purchase-list is therefore reduced to that extent.

It is to be hoped that hereafter such fund as may be appropriated for the purchase of books for the State Library may be solely applied for that purpose. My experience leads me to say there is no danger that it will ever be too large.

I am happy to say that I have no losses or larcenies to report, and but one act of vandalism, namely, the cutting-out and purloining from Vol. I of Champlin's "Cyclopædia of Painters and Paintings," of the photogravure full-page illustration called "The Youth of Bacchus," by William Adolphe Bonguereau, from the original by Messrs. Boussod, Valdar & Co., Paris. I am thus particular in describing this photogravure, hoping that it may lead to the detection of the culprit.

The above-mentioned Cyclopædia is a magnificent work in four volumes, quarto, splendidly illustrated, and is worth $100. Art books are not generally purchased for State libraries, but we obtained this book on account of its very full and accurate biographies of painters, and especially because we thought it would be very useful to students attending the Art School here. The text is all intact, but the merchantable value of the work is ruined. What an artistic soul the person must have who is capable of such an aggravating mutilation of so beautiful and valuable a work! The act was worthy of Mr. Samuel G. Farrand, whose name I tried to embalm in my last report as the most industrious, expert, and indefatigable book-thief in Kansas. But Mr. Farrand not being in the State of Kansas, he cannot be credited with whatever honor the above act would give him in his profession.

CONDITION OF REPORTS.

Under this head I do not know that I can improve upon what I said in my last report, the situation being much the same.

To secure some action to increase the edition of the Kansas Reports it would seem only necessary to say, (as the fact is,) that the State has not been able to supply a full set of Kansas Reports for the past six years! By reference to Schedule H it will be seen that a full set of Kansas Reports now numbers 37 volumes, and of these the State can only furnish three volumes, and these it can only supply for a short time, as there are now but 78 copies of volume 35 on hand and 77 copies of volume 36, and in two months these will be exhausted, leaving one volume out of the 37 volumes that the State can furnish.

The trouble is that the edition of new volumes is not large enough. In 1862 the size of the edition was fixed at 1,000 copies, and it has so continued ever since. In 1862 the population of Kansas, on the basis of the census of 1860, was about 200,000, and the population for 1887 was 1,514,548; and it is natural to suppose that the demand for these books within the State has proportionately increased. An edition of 1,000 was large enough to supply the demand in 1862 and for some time beyond, but a glance at Schedule H will show that it is now entirely too small. Should the demand increase in another four years as it has in the four years past, the whole 1,000 copies will be exhausted within six months from the time they are issued. I suggest that the edition be increased to 1,500 or 2,000 copies; or better still, that they be stereotyped, so that they may be supplied at any time as wanted.

The State Printer informs me that with an edition of 1,000 copies the reports cost the State a little more than the price per volume fixed by statute, but if the edition were increased to 2,000 copies the cost per volume would be a little less than the statutory price. Of course if an individual were issuing the reports for his own benefit he would either stereotype them, or publish enough to supply the demand for some years to come, as a matter of economy if nothing else, and it is difficult to see why the same principle should not apply to the State.

PROCEEDS OF SALES OF REPORTS.

So long ago as 1874 it was enacted that—

“All moneys paid into the State treasury since the close of the last fiscal year [1874,] on account of sales of Reports of the Supreme Court, and all moneys hereafter paid in on such account, shall constitute a 'library fund.' The State Treasurer shall open an account with the State Library, to which all such payments shall be credited. Said fund may be drawn on from time to time by the Directors of the State Library for the purchase of reports and other books, when they deem it necessary to increase the library. All undrawn balances at the close of each fiscal year shall be transferred by the Treasurer to the general fund." (See sec. 5, chap. 104, Laws of 1874.)

Section 24, article 2, of the State Constitution reads:

"No money shall be drawn from the treasury except in pursuance of a specific appropriation made by law," etc.

By the decision of the Supreme Court in the case of Martin v. Francis, Treasurer, 13 Kas. 220, construing said article of the Constitution, it was held that—

"Money belonging to the State, rightfully in the State treasury, and over which the Legislature has the rightful control, cannot be drawn from the treasury except in pursuance of some act of the Legislature passed for that purpose," etc.

Under said decision, of course the proceeds of sales could not be drawn for the purchase of books, and ever since then the proceeds of the sales of these reports have been turned over to the State Treasurer by the Librarian to create a "library fund," not a dollar of which can be drawn for library uses, and which at the end of the year is swallowed up by the general fund; and so on from year to year, limiting us to the amount of the appropriation for book purchases each year. In 1874 a set of Kansas Reports numbered 12 volumes, and was worth $48. Now the State owns but 3 volumes, and a sale of these numbers yields $7.50, being $40.50 less than when said act was passed. It would seem that if the object of the act was right, proper and necessary then, it certainly is now.

At the last session of the Legislature a bill to give the Library the proceeds of sales of the reports was drawn and favorably reported upon by the House Committee on Library, but it was thought that inasmuch as it provided for the application of moneys belonging to the State it should be referred to the over-worked Committee on Ways and Means, which accordingly was done late in the session. At the end of the session it stood on the calendar with a large number of other weeping Niobes—an illustration of how far superior to any other is the parliamentary way of not doing things.

My judgment is that the sale of even the limited number of reports now owned by the State, including sales of new volumes as they come out, would yield us a little more money than the annual appropriation, and we need it especially to bring up our foreign reports and to obtain some valuable works of reference for the miscellaneous side of the Library.

I suggest the passage of a law setting aside all proceeds of sales of Supreme Court Reports, as a library fund in the hands of the Librarian, to be applied to the purchase of books for the Library, under the direction of the Directors thereof, and that such application of such proceeds be in lieu of the ordinary annual appropriation for book purchases. By not requiring the money to be turned over to the Treasurer, it would certainly be subject to the direction of the Legislature, and could be so applied. I make the suggestion for the following reasons :

1st. As I have said, it would yield us a little more money than we now get for the purchase of books, and we need it.

2d. It makes the fund certain, and it would be distributed through the year so that it could be applied to purchases most needed at the time. Generally our appropriation is exhausted in three or four months from the beginning of the fiscal year, so that many new and desirable books cannot be purchased until long after they are out. Again, clearing-house catalogues and booksellers' catalogues frequently contain lists of books, or sets, very much needed in the Library, and at very low figures. Though they are desirable and a bargain, we cannot get them or contract for them until the next appropriation is available, some eight or nine months hence, and then on writing to secure the books my experience has almost invariably been that some other and more lucky purchaser has taken them. Of course the risk to the State of misapplication of funds can be no greater where proceeds of sales are applied to purchases, than where the money is drawn from the treasury and so applied.

3d. I feel satisfied it will enable us to get many valuable works we otherwise would not secure, as we could then contract for and secure them, to be paid for when the proceeds of sales should be sufficient.

If it should appear in the future that the fund yielded is larger than necessary, it could be easily repealed.

A PROPOSED DONATION.

Few physicians were better or more favorably known in the State, and few more loved and respected in the city of his home, not only on account of his professional skill and ability, tested for many years here, but also for his kindness, generosity and quiet benevolence, than Dr. David W. Stormont, who died in this city August 3d, 1887. His widow, Mrs. Jane C. Stormont, is desirous of giving to the State in which he lived so long and which he loved so well, a liberal sum of money, one-half thereof to be at once invested in the purchase of medical books, periodicals, charts, &c., illustrative of medical science, and the other half to be invested in safe securities, and only conditioned that the proceeds thereof shall from year to year be invested in the purchase of such books, periodicals, &c.; the same to be the property of the State, and kept and cared for in the State Library separately from the mass of books, and to be named in some proper way to distinguish them, and preserve the Doctor's memory among Kansans. Such a gift is rare in the history of State libraries. I know that the State libraries of Ohio, Pennsylvania, New York, Massachusetts and Iowa have not been the recipients of such a gift, and I do not know of a single State library that has been so honored. I suggest that proper action be taken by the Legislature for the reception and care of this fund. One very simple and proper way, it occurs to me, would be to authorize the Treasurer to receive the fund and hold it subject to the order of the School Fund Commissioners, who, under our present law, are the State Superintendent of Public Instruction, the Secretary of State and the Attorney General, and who manage and invest the State's permanent school fund as provided by law. The act could direct the management and investment of this fund in the same manner that the permanent school fund is now managed and invested, and with the same responsibility on the part of the Treasurer and the officers of the board. Thus all trouble in relation to the appointment of succeeding ex-ecutors would be avoided, and the fund would be permanently in safe hands, and invested from time to time, as became necessary, with the same care and responsibility on the part of the officers that governs with respect to the school fund. The product of the fund could be drawn by the commissioners and applied to the purchase of books selected, say, by a committee of three physicians of the State to be annually appointed by the State Medical Society, and the State Librarian, and the vouchers paid by the Treasurer on the certificate of said committee and Librarian of the purchase of the books and their cost. Thus without expense to the fund, or trouble to the donor or others, the fund could be permanently cared for and carefully and safely invested for all time to come.

Year by year the collection of books would grow in number and value, until it would become the Mecca of those pursuing medical and kindred science; and year by year the memory of the donor would be kept green in the hearts of those who came to drink at the fountain.

If our desire is to live for a time in the memory of those who come after us, how much better is this than the cold and costly bronze shaft or the monumental marble, that in turn must yield to the sand-blasts of time and go down to a voiceless oblivion.

It has often occurred to me that he who would live in the grateful remembrance of those who follow him, could not do better than to leave such a fund, so to be guarded and cared for, and invested in books of the character he loved, as a constant reminder of the fact that he lived, was generous and kind to those of his time, and thoughtful even of those who should succeed him. Such an one might indeed say, as truthfully as Horace said of his works: "Exegi monumentum ære perennius."

"Policy counseleth a gift, given wisely and in season;

And policy afterwards approveth it, for great is the influence of gifts."

The annexed schedules show the business of the Library in detail, from July 1, 1886, to the close of the fiscal year, June 30, 1888. I hope that for perspicuity of style, picturesque and graphic elaboration of detail, and continuity of interest, it will rank favorably with the ordinary statistical "Pub. Doc."!

*I regret to be again compelled to announce that the Salary Fund is entirely exhausted. The reasons are much the same as those stated in my last report. I have not been afflicted with twins, or other cause for additional expense during the past two years, but the result is the same. I have used the utmost economy in my mode of living, hoping that I might be able to leave something to revert to the general fund, but it has been a failure. Seven years of ambitious effort in this direction, and seven years of failure, convince me that it cannot be done. My judgment is that if the State wishes to derive any revenue from the salary fund for the general fund it will have to reduce the appropriation.

I do not make this as a suggestion, however. I think it would be safest to rely upon taxation for revenue!

LIBRARIAN'S REPORT.

SEVENTH BIENNIAL REPORT

OF THE

STATE LIBRARIAN

OF THE

STATE OF KANSAS,

EMBRACING THE PERIOD FROM THE FIRST DAY OF JULY, 1888, TO THE CLOSE OF THE FISCAL YEAR ENDING JUNE 30, 1890.

TOPEKA.

KANSAS PUBLISHING HOUSE: CLIFFORD C. BAKER, STATE PRINTER.
1890.

To Hon. LYMAN U. HUMPHREY, Governor of Kansas:

I herewith respectfully submit the Seventh Biennial Report of the condition of the State Library at the close of the fiscal year ending June 30, 1890.

H. J. DENNIS,

TOPEKA, August 8, 1890.

State Librarian.

REPORT.

By reference to Schedule G, it will be seen that the library has received from all sources during the past two years 2,764 volumes. The number received as exchanges is 290 greater than during the preceding two years, and the number received by donation, including the Stormont collection, is 347 greater; making the receipts from these two sources greater by 637 volumes than during the preceding two years. I feel gratified with the increased receipts from exchanges, for it is apparent that it is the fruit of a liberal policy on our own part. Our exchanges go out promptly, with all charges prepaid. By an act of the Legislature of 1889 I was enabled to send out last year as an exchange to every State and Territorial library, a copy of the General Statutes of Kansas for 1889, in two large volumes, covering all the statutes of Kansas in force at the present time. It was a valuable donation, and places us in a position to receive promptly anything a sister State may have to exchange.

An examination of purchase list, however, will show a decrease, especially of law books, as compared with the preceding biennial period. The reason for this is very apparent: there was an utter failure by the last Legislature to make any appropriation for book purchases for the library for the years ending June 30, 1890 and 1891. So that during the last year we have had no money for the purchase of books, and none is as yet appropriated for the year to come. How or why this failure occurred I was unable to find out. I believe, however, that it was a mistake, and that it was not a mistake of the Legislature. When I learned the fact that the appropriation was not in the enrolled bill it was too late to have the matter corrected by action of the Legislature; but I was assured by many members of both the Senate and House that the appropriation had been allowed in committee, and favorably acted upon by both houses, and that if not in the appropriation bill for the Executive and Judiciary Departments it must be in some other. But it never appeared in any other, and I have never been able to convince the Treasurer and Auditor that as a matter of fact the appropriation was allowed. It was like the Constitution of England, unwritten; but, unlike said Constitution, it had no force.

This failure has seriously crippled the library in its most important lines of growth. I ask now, and shall ask of the next Legislature, that the appropriation that was said to be allowed, but failed to appear in the enrolled

VALUE AND UTILITY.

It is to-day worth in money all that it has cost the State, and in this respect probably differs from any other piece of property owned by the State. What shall be said of what it has already been worth to the State in placing and holding its judiciary on the plane it occupies, and in moulding the legislation of the State from year to year? Suppose we had had no State Library from the beginning: is it not apparent that its loss would have been most seriously felt in every department of the State, and by the people themselves to the remotest boundaries of the State? Legislation would inevitably have been more crude and unsatisfactory, judgments more often wrong, and as a result less respect for all law, which finds its chief strength in being right.

I heard of one member of the Legislature some years ago who opposed an appropriation to the library for the reason that he believed it was kept up principally for the benefit of attorneys. There could be no greater fallacy than this. Attorneys do not spend years of laborious study in acquiring a knowledge of the law for their own benefit, and to enable them to try their own cases. Indeed, attorneys are rarely litigants, and like doctors rarely take their own medicine. The attorney is almost always the mere agent between the litigant and the court. It is generally the citizen who is the litigant and in trouble, not the attorney, and the experience and knowledge of the attorney are used for the benefit of the citizen; so that while the attorney generally most uses the library, his client gets the benefit of it. The influence of the library goes out into every county, city and town of the State, and yearly the personal and property rights of people in every county in the State are adjusted by its aid. Like the electric light plant, it is not very attractive in itself, but it throws a flood of light on many and remote points as desired.

The law settled in an appellate court becomes the law of the land, affecting every citizen within its jurisdiction, for it also determines his rights and duties under similar circumstances. Therefore, when Jones's case is determined, while Jones is directly interested in the issue, every citizen in the State is indirectly interested, because the decision of Jones's case determines the law that hedges them about also. And so every decision of an appellate court, if right, adds another stone to the wall of defense about the citizen, and if wrong, removes a stone and weakens the wall.

No, the State Library is not for the benefit of attorneys alone, nor for judges and courts alone, nor for the Legislature alone, nor for Topeka alone, but for the people as a whole, who get its benefits.

I have mentioned some of the general benefits flowing from the law side of the library to the people, but those from the miscellaneous side are quite as great. Out of fifty people, forty may not individually have much need of the law except as it is fixed by statute, but all of them will be interested in and wish to know about something else; something of the political and social life and growth of the nation, of history, science, etc., etc. Many a gun has been loaded from the miscellaneous cartridge-box of the State Library, whose report has been heard to the remotest boundaries of the State; and while it might be said that some of the guns had more bore than caliber, still it was not the fault of the cartridge.

It seems idle to argue about the necessity for some great central source of varied and reliable information such as a State library ought to be. Who can estimate the value and influence of a great library?

De Bury says: "The library of wisdom is more precious than riches; and nothing that can be wished for is worthy to be compared with it."

"God be thanked for books!" says Dr. Channing. "They are the voices of the distant and the dead, and make us heirs to the spiritual life of past ages. Books are the true levelers. They give to all who will faithfully use them the society, the spiritual presence of the best and greatest of our race."

Says Whipple: "Science, art, literature, philosophy—all that man has thought, all that man has done—the experience that has been bought with the sufferings of a hundred generations, all are garnered up for us in the world of books."

Prof. A. D. White, ex-President of Cornell University, says: "The fundamental principle of the college library, as of every other library, is, that what is good in the future must be developed out of what is good in the past; that all progress, whether in science, or literature, or art, or morals, or religion, is drawn from roots fixed in the past thought or action of mankind." . . . "In accumulating then the treasures of human thought in the past, every worthy public library prepares the way for the development of additional and greater treasures of human thought in the future."

The past would be useless to us but for books. We cannot see forward, and were we cut off from a view of the past we should be like moles, seeing but the little present, and without a guide to the future. But the look backward is a commanding one. Supposing, I say, that writing began among the Phœnicians. Like the Egyptians, they claimed an antiquity of 30,000 years; and if I place the honor with the Phœnicians, they are too old to feel inflated with the compliment, if undeserved; and there is no Egyptian living to-day who can bring an action for infringement of copy-right, because of the statute of limitations—a process of debt-paying by operation of law which would have astonished the older denizens of Sidon, as well as the inhabitant of any city in the land of Myzraim. If then I place the honor with the Phœnicians, the outflow from this little center bubbles up into the ancient Greek, ancient Persian, Numidian, ancient Hebrew, and ancient Aramean languages; and if I take the Egyptian theory, the result is about the same. It must be evident that Civilization tooted her horn very early in the gray dawn of a day that has culminated in the bright noon of the present; that its first wild notes are still echoing down the aisles of time, and that we still hear them—and it makes but little difference to me whether a Phœnician or Egyptian first tooted the horn. Life is too short (and the corn crop is too short) to justify a discussion of the question here. From these centers, or this center (for they are too near together to intelligently discriminate) there flowed out westward on diverging lines a luminous force that photographed what was transient and evanescent; not very perfectly or minutely, of course, but it preserved what of substance it touched, and blazed its way around the world, stopping not for ocean, mountain or river until again upon the shores of the Mediterranean it completed its circuit and doubled upon its own track.

This force was an art, simple to us now and much improved upon, the art of gathering the names and deeds and thoughts of men and preserving them on the chiseled slab or parchment roll, until in turn they were photographed upon the leaves of books for preservation and wide dissemination, just as to-day the newspapers, which make up a daily composite photograph of the world, are finally crystallized into books. Here then, and at last in books, is the thesaurus of the world, in which are gathered and preserved all that can be known of its legends and myths—those shadows of substantial history—of its good and great, of its wise and foolish, of its victories and defeats, and all that has gone to make up the history of nations traveling before us in procession from their youth to their old age and death.

Is it not a matchless record, and can anything more valuable be conceived of? Surely De Bury was right when he said: "The library of wisdom is more precious than riches; and nothing that can be wished for is worthy to be compared with it." No library probably in the world can possess it all, but much of it, and the best of it, can be cheaply had.

It seems to me that a thing so valuable and useful to the State should be liberally supported, and that it should not be necessary for myself, or anybody else, to urge upon each Legislature the necessity for the small sum that custom has fixed upon as the annual appropriation, and especially that the library should not be quite overlooked or forgotten as at the last session.

There is another view of the value of the State library that I might mention as appealing to our State pride. The people are building the capitol of the State. Like good children we are building a home for our mother. It will have wide, hospitable doors fronting to the north, the south, the east and the west, and we know that the latch-string will always hang out for the children coming from any direction. We want it nice, and roomy, and grand. We are building a dome upon it that will cost more than $100,000. We don't care about the cost;—it pleases us and so we know it will please her, and that visitors coming from abroad will say, "Here is a generous-hearted people;" and we cheerfully put our hands down in our pockets and pay for it. As to the dome, its utility is probably limited to its beauty. I am not criticising it, but I am one who is voting for it, and helping to pay for it.

Annually there flows from the East to the West a trans-continental tidal wave of travelers, and a corresponding one moves from the West to the East. These travelers and sight-seers usually stop at least once in each State, and in Kansas they generally stop at the capital. Some will see the Senate and Representative chambers, some the agricultural exhibit, some Mr. Goss's collection of birds, some the Historical Society's collection, and some will come to see Jack Downing; but it is pretty safe to say that all will visit the State Library. My experience is that this is true; and being so, would it not be well that the support of the library should be liberal, and that its size, growth, and the character of its contents should be such as to exact the further judgment, "This is a brainy, thoughtful, refined and cultured people"? I am not belittling the dome. Let it overtop and cover the library if you please; but still I believe that the State Library is the brightest gem in the crown of the State, and that the steady gleam of its light will be seen and felt farther through the dark than the reflected ray from the dome.

LOSSES.

I am happy to be able to report that the library has lost but two books during the past two years. One is Jules Verne's "Tour of the World in Eighty Days," and the other "The American Indian." The first is a cheap book, which can be easily supplied. The other is one of more value. It was loaned to W. D. Webb, Esq., of Atchison, Kansas, April 16, 1889, and he has never returned or replaced it, "though thereunto often requested so to do." I do not ask the State to restore this volume. It is a duty which I prefer to impose upon myself as a penalty for loaning it in the first instance.

THE STORMONT FUND AND LIBRARY.

In my last report I called attention to the fact that Mrs. Jane C. Stormont wished to donate to the library $5,000 as a permanent fund for the purchase of standard medical books, to be kept separately, and named in some appropriate way to distinguish them, as a memorial to her deceased husband, Dr. David W. Stormont; and that in addition thereto she proposed to purchase books to about the same value, and place them in the library for a like purpose and as a commencement of the collection, and that this generous lady only awaited the formal and authoritative reception of the proposed donation to perfect it. Accordingly, by an act of the Legislature, approved March 1, 1889, (see chapter 241, Laws of 1889, page 365,) this memorial donation was duly accepted, and by the terms of said act full provision was made for the reception, care, and investment of the proposed permanent fund.

In accordance with said proposition and act, Mrs. Stormont, on June 14, 1889, paid to the Treasurer of the State the sum of $5,000; and as provided by said act, the School Fund Commissioners, on July 1, 1889, invested said fund as follows: $1,000 thereof in ten bonds of the denomination of $100 each, issued by School District No. 98, of Shawnee county, Kansas, due July 1, 1899, bearing six per cent. interest, with interest coupons not matured thereto attached; and the remaining $4,000 thereof in forty bonds of the denomination of $100 each, issued by School District No. 44, of Nemaha county, Kansas, also due July 1, 1899, bearing six per cent. interest, with interest coupons not matured attached. The coupons due January 1 and July 1, 1890, are now paid in, making the accrued sum of $300 now in the treasury ready to be used for the purchase of books.

In addition to the above donation, Mrs. Stormont proposes to purchase, and present to the "Stormont Medical Library," new books to the value of $5,000. These are being selected by a committee of physicians chosen by Mrs. Stormont, and consisting of Drs. Reid Alexander, C. H. Guibor, R. M. Phillips, John E. Minney, and W. L. Schenck. Two hundred and ten volumes have already been purchased, and are now in the library, a full list and description of which can be found in Schedule K.

A glance at this list will show that they are all books of the highest authority, of the latest editions, and that they cover a wide range of medical topics. I would especially call attention to Ashurst's International Encyclopædia of Surgery, in 6 quarto volumes; Buck's Reference Handbook of the Medical Sciences, in 8 quarto volumes; Wood's Medical and Surgical Monographs, in 4 large volumes; Ziemssen's Cyclopædia of the Practice of Medicine, in 21 large volumes; Dühring's Atlas of the Skin, a magnificent folio; and Wood's Medical Library of Standard Medical Authors, covering 100 volumes, by authors of the highest rank in the profession, beginning with Hippocrates, "The Father of Medicine," and including the works of many of the oldest Spanish, French, German, English, and American writers. This set of books alone contains over 5,000 illustrations by wood engravings, and 100 full-page lithographic plates, and 200 tinted full-page lithographic plates, making of itself a great medical library of the highest authority and value.

It is the intention of Mrs. Stormont to continue to purchase and place in the library similar books to the value of $5,000, as fast as the selection can be judiciously made, which will start the Stormont collection with about 1,000 volumes of standard medical books, and which will at once make it the largest and best-selected collection of medical books in the State of Kansas, or in fact to be found anywhere except in the library of a medical college.

It has been thought best to leave the accumulation of the permanent fund in the treasury until this voluntary purchase is completed, when the $300 now accrued and the subsequently maturing interest may be used to better advantage in topically equalizing the collection.

Let me say a few words about this donation. In the first place it is unique. While many very liberal donations have recently been made in this country to public libraries, so called, and to aid in founding libraries of various societies on a scientific, political or literary basis, I have not learned of any similar donation to a State library. It is unique for another reason. There has been no ostentation about it, no special mention in the press, no competitive subscription asked for. I cannot remember that the generous lady who is the real donor has ever been in the library, (where she would be very welcome,) and when the Legislature was in session she was not a visitor. Along the quiet and retired paths of life she keeps the even tenor of her way, with a few friends well tried, seeking few new ones, but keeping green the memory of the old ones.

We guard with greatest care the things we prize most. To her nothing is so dear as the memory of her husband, and whatever she can do to preserve that memory among men is a labor of love. Had she consulted the wise men of the East and the West I do not think so admirable a plan could have been devised as the one she has adopted. During the dynasties of the Theban Kings, the monarch's burial-place began to be excavated as soon as he ascended the throne, and the excavation went on year by year, the painting and decoration progressing till the king's death, when it was suddenly broken off. The tomb thus became an index both of the king's magnificence and of the length of his reign. And thus were many lives exhausted to perpetuate the memory of one. A few of these costly tombs remain to tell the story of the many others that have yielded to the irresistible decay they were intended to prevent. As time advances the marble or brazen shaft grows dimmer and sinks deeper into the dust of time, until it is lost in the world's debris.

How different it must and will be with this monument. It is not made of dull, cold, meaningless blocks of stone or marble, but of books, filled with the best thoughts and experiences of scholarly men upon themes of the highest interest and importance to humanity; and every book bears the name of him in whose honor it is erected and whose memory it is to perpetuate. It is never completed, and never ceases to grow towards greater attractiveness in beauty and utility, for here "the king never dies." Its purpose is not merely to attract the idle gaze, or mark a date, or chill the heart of the beholder with a cold sentiment written upon the brow of death, but it is a monument of warm life. From its atmosphere there flows out a healing balm to the afflicted, prolonging life, relieving pain, drying the tear upon the cheek of despair and placing the smile of hope on the lip quivering with anguish, and the winsome dimple of health on the cheek of helpless infancy. It is at once a monument and a benediction. It is indeed the perfect emblem of immortality. The good the donor did or could do in his lifetime is not buried with him, but lives and goes steadily on while he quietly sleeps. The architect of this monument planned better than the builders of the Pyramids!

Look ahead a little at its assured growth. In ten years its value will be $8,000, and it will contain 1,600 volumes. In fifty years its value will be $20,000, in 100 years its value will be $35,000, and it will contain 7,000 volumes; and in 1,000 years its value will be $305,000, and it will contain 61,000 volumes. Then the monument will be colossal!

Look around you to-day, and think what is there most substantial now that may survive to that far-off time. Not much that we can see or think of. But the State will survive. Kansas will be here. In fact, I believe she will then be only in the young girlhood of her life, with the golden tint of the corn in her hair, and the sun-lit glint of our blue skies in her eye. The Capitol building may then cover the State House square, but the Stormont collection will still have a place in it, though grown to the size I have mentioned; and it will be still growing. It will live and grow while the State lives; and no Kansan fears an oblivion that may rest beyond the lifetime of the State.

How much good one may do with a small capital, if he but has the inclination, and knows how to do it! Think of the value to be received by the State and its people from this growing collection from year to year. One can almost hear the voices of that distant time expressing gratitude for the thoughtful kindness that has secured to them such a treasure, and reverently speaking the donor's name.

EXCHANGES.

By reference to Schedule D, it will be seen that a very large list of duplicates were sent out from the library during the past two years as exchanges, and on account of the number sent, I should probably make some explanation here.

Early in 1887 Hon. H. L. Muldrow, acting Secretary of the United States Department of the Interior, issued circulars to about 800 libraries in the United States that are depositories of Federal documents, asking for a list of deficiencies of such documents in each library, and for a return of such duplicates as they might have, to be used in filling sets in other similar libraries. The opportunity of adding to or completing their sets by an exchange for duplicates, which were simply an incumbrance upon their shelves, was warmly welcomed by librarians generally, and up to March 27, 1888, over 48,000 volumes were received by the department, to be placed where needed. By reason of the reckless distribution of these documents in former years a large number had crept into the State Library, covering a period from 1846 to 1886. There was no regularity about this duplication, as the documents of scarcely a single Congressional session could be found complete, while occasionally there were found five copies of a single volume. These duplicates were of no value to the library, and in their broken condition could be of little value to anybody else, or to any other single library. A complete set for a single session is of more value than the broken sets of a dozen sessions. Mr. Muldrow's scheme was therefore admirable, as his department made the exchange without cost to the contributing libraries. It appeared to our Directors that the volumes necessary to complete our broken set, though less in number, were of more value than our large stock of duplicates, and that while our duplicates were of little value to us, they would be of great value to other libraries. Accordingly the exchange was made, and the check-list of our wants was sent to the Department of the Interior, and we have from time to time received missing volumes, which add so much to the value of our set. The result is that the hearty coöperation of all libraries having duplicates of Federal documents, and lacking any to fill sets, has resulted in general good for all. I believe we devoted our duplicates to the wisest use.

In some of my former reports I have made certain suggestions, (not always very successfully, I will admit,) of needed legislation for the State Library. I should do so again but for the fact that at the last session of the Legislature a committee was appointed to revise and codify the existing laws regulating the various departments of the State, and to make report of such modifications and changes as to them might seem expedient and necessary. While I do not know what the committee may suggest in reference to the library, I have faith in their good judgment, and therefore refrain from making any suggestions here.

The following schedules will show the business of the library for the past two years. There is not that continuity in the story that Mr. W. D. Howells might demand, still I have thought it best to adhere strictly to fact—though I have felt like indulging my imagination somewhat when writing the chapter on law-book purchases. At least I have felt like enlarging upon the fund.

*Notwithstanding the fact that the last Legislature increased the salary fund, it will be seen that it is again entirely exhausted. I think I mentioned this probable result to the last Committee on Ways and Means. In former years, and with a less salary, I made diligent effort to leave something to revert to the general fund. It was not surprising that in the end the showing did not indicate that either I or the State made anything. But not to be able to save something now, on an increased salary, is mortifying. Still, I feel that I have done the best I could in that direction: I have daily used careful economy in assisting impecunious, one-legged people to travel to distant parts of the country; in tiding others over the heated term, who dared not labor for fear of sun-stroke in warm weather, and of rupturing an inherited aneurism in cold weather; in helping others build houses on imaginary lots, and repair roofs to imaginary churches; in contributing toward the purchase of Jersey cows for families afflicted with a chronic want of lacteal secretion and a fatty degeneration of muscular activity; and to help to keep alive the patriotic sentiment of those who find it necessary to have a brass band whenever two or three are gathered together in a political capacity. I think those who have applied to me for aid for any of the above-named purposes, (and for many others not named,) would testify with one accord that I had used rigid economy. And still the result is the same. It shows the fallacy of increasing salaries. I would not be surprised if the salary were raised to the munificent sum paid certain base-ball players and riders of race-horses, it would still be found to be exhausted at the end of two years.

*Annotated reprints of volumes 5 to 15 inclusive, 21, 22, 23, 24, 25 and 28 to 35 inclusive, as above shown, have been purchased by the Secretary of State in accordance with chapter 244 of the Laws of Kansas for 1889, since my last report, and placed in the care of the Librarian for the purposes of exchange only. These annotated reprints cannot be sold by the Librarian. Volumes 36, 37, 38 and 39 are also out of print, and as annotated reprints are issued about 200 copies of each volume of these reports should also be purchased for the purpose of keeping up the exchanges and to supply the counties and public officers who are by law entitled to them. Beginning with volume 40 the edition was increased to 2,000 copies instead of 1,000, and it will therefore be long before the State will be required to obtain reprints of these volumes.

THE STATE LIBRARIAN

OF THE

STATE OF KANSAS,

EMBRACING THE PERIOD FROM THE 1ST DAY OF JULY, 1890, TO THE CLOSE OF THE FISCAL YEAR ENDING JUNE 30TH, 1892.

TOPEKA.

PRESS OF THE HAMILTON PRINTING COMPANY:

EDWIN H. SNOW, State Printer.

To Hon. Lyman U. Humphrey, Governor of Kansas:

I herewith respectfully submit the Eighth Biennial Report of the condition of the State Library, at the close of the fiscal year ending June 30, 1892.

H. J. DENNIS,

TOPEKA, September 9, 1892.

REPORT.

THE growth of the State Library for the past twelve years can probably be best shown by the following table of accessions:

For the two years ending June 30, 1882.....	1,162 volumes.
For the two years ending June 30, 1884.....	2,365 volumes.
For the two years ending June 30, 1886.....	2,757 volumes.
For the two years ending June 30, 1888.....	2,317 volumes.
For the two years ending June 30, 1890.....	2,764 volumes.
For the two years ending June 30, 1892 (see Schedule E).....	3,587 volumes.
Total.....	14,952 volumes.

Making an average of 1,246 volumes yearly added to the library during this period. When it is remembered that during these years the appropriations for book purchases have fluctuated between $1,000 and $2,000 per annum only, and that from 1888 to 1890 there was an utter failure of appropriation, the growth seems as rapid as could be expected.

THE STORMONT FUND AND LIBRARY.

Of course the average receipt of volumes for the past three years has been very materially increased by the generous donation of Mrs. Jane C. Stormont; for during that time she has voluntarily purchased and placed permanently in the Stormont Medical Collection, as a part of the State Library, 1,193 volumes (see Schedule H). As these volumes represent more than $4,000 in value, and have cost the State nothing, I have deemed it best to publish the entire list, alphabetically arranged by authors, for convenience to the committee Mrs. Stormont has appointed to select her purchases in the future, as well as for the benefit of others; and I call attention to it as a list that can scarcely be found in the West to-day. It will be noticed that the editions are all of the latest and best, in many cases illustrated, and in many cases the cost is such as to place them beyond the reach of the ordinary practitioner, (especially the one who is promised much when we are sick and is forgotten when we are well).

Surely the monument is growing, and will grow steadily from year to year, as long as Kansas is a State, in beauty, utility, and beneficence.

It may seem a little humiliating, but it is nevertheless true, that this generous lady has expended more money during the last three years in the purchase of books for the State Library than has the State itself. In addition to the purchases above mentioned, it must be remembered that on the 14th of June, 1889, Mrs. Stormont paid to the State Treasurer, as a permanent donation for the use of the State, the sum of $5,000, in pursuance of a statute of the Legislature, of date March 1, 1889, duly accepting the same, and providing for its investment. In July, 1889, this sum was invested by the School Fund Commissioners in Kansas school and county bonds, bearing 6 per cent. interest, as stated in my last report. The accrued interest on this fund paid into the treasury to July 1, 1892, amounts to the sum of $900, which has only been drawn upon to the extent of $46.66 for a card catalogue outfit specially for the Stormont collection, as follows:

Accrued fund paid in to July 1, 1892.....	$900 00
By 1 walnut card case No. 22 p.....	$25 00
5,000 cards, No. 33, 12½x7½ cm.....	17 81
50 shelf label holders.....	3 75
100 blank labels.....	10 46 66
Balance in the treasury.....	$853 34

As these books have been coming liberally during the past two years, (983 volumes having been received during that time,) and as it is understood that Mrs. Stormont intends to make some further individual purchases for the collection, it has been deemed best to leave that fund intact until her voluntary purchases are completed, when it can best be used in topically equalizing the collection.

In my last report I said something about the value of this collection to the profession that holds the highest trust that can be reposed in man, namely, the physician—the custodian of our lives. The forms of attack upon the health and life of an individual are as varied as those affecting his personal and legal rights. I have heretofore shown that the law library is not limited in its use and influence to Topeka, or to the Supreme Court or Legislature, but that the personal and property rights of citizens far removed from the capital are frequently determined by authorities found in the State Library. And so with reference to the question of still higher importance—health and the combating of disease. We daily set our watches by time telegraphed from St. Louis; and it may happen, and probably will, that lives may be prolonged, health restored and hearts kept beating in distant parts of the State by remedial agents and treatment suggested by the most learned physicians of the world, living and dead, whose works, the result of skill, labor, long study and wide, multifarious practice in every land, among all peoples and diseases, are preserved in the Stormont collection. Should a stranger wearing the mask of death come to us from pestilential India or malarious Hindostan, we may know how to meet and treat him, and not only ban him by proclamation, but in reality, permanently and scientifically, by authority and well attested precedent to be found in this collection.

It is a healing spring, whose gentle, cooling dews, borne upon the breeze from every quarter of heaven, may fall with healing power upon the pain-racked form and fevered brow of one sick unto despair, even in the remotest corner of the State.

Under the provisions of chapter 38, Laws of 1891, I am admonished that brevity is to be the soul of official reports hereafter. I therefore shall say very little in the way of suggestion; and perhaps it is as well, for I have said much in former reports with little effect.

I hope that the appropriation for book purchases may be placed, as heretofore, at $2,000 per annum. It should certainly not be less. Missouri's last appropriation for book purchases was $6,000, and our nearest neighbor, Nebraska, enjoys a fund of about $6,000 per year for book purchases. Nearly all the States have a fund as large per year as we now get for the whole biennial period. Of course it follows that our State Library must fall behind these in rapidity of growth and value of additions. About the same number of exchanges and donations will naturally come to each; but it must be remembered that all good things in this world must be bought and paid for, and good and valuable books are no exception to the rule.

Outside of the general usefulness of the library, I have heretofore tried to show that it is worth all in money that it has cost the State, and that it therefore differs in this respect from any other piece of property owned by the State. I meant it then and mean it now, for I believe it to be true; and if so, the State cannot lose anything, even in a pecuniary way, by any reasonable investment it may make in books for the State Library. The last appropriation, for 1892-'93, is limited to the sum of $1,000. Many firms, and even some individuals, annually expend more than this sum upon their professional and private libraries.

The last appropriation is still further limited to the purchase of law books, as if a State library could not, or should not, be anything but a purely law library. What should a State library be anyhow? Nearly all the States have long ago settled this matter, as their catalogues will show, by obtaining for their libraries books "comprising the statutes and judicial decisions of the several States, of the General Government, of Great Britain and its dependencies, and of other countries; the publications of a general and local nature, designed to illustrate the history of the state and nation; the standard works of general history, and the histories of other states and countries; a selection of the biographical, political, statistical, financial, economic and scientific writings of the best authorities; and such works of a general character as seem to have a special adaptation for the use of those chosen to perfect the legislation of the State, or to interpret and administer its laws."

The above is the best and most condensed statement of what a State library should be composed that I know of; at least, it is the foundation upon which the great majority of the older States have built the most useful and valuable libraries in this country.

Surely these are all proper books for a State library, and make up a collection where every individual of the State may come and find assistance on the subject of his search—save only in the realms of poetry, drama, fiction, and art. These are esteemed luxuries, and must come later, especially in the new States, but the others are the essentials.

“Books are social in their nature, and thrive best in each other’s neighborhood,” somebody has said, and a collection in any department of the world’s knowledge adds a charm to it all, and is itself made more attractive by the good company it is in. I have above indicated the topical character of books proper and necessary for a State library, i. e., the verdict of the majority of the older States, and especially of those that have given most attention to the building up of great, valuable and useful libraries.

But our last appropriation, small as it is, is still further limited to the “purchase of law books.”

Thomas Gray, in a letter to his friend West, has said: “The sparks of all sciences in the world are covered in the ashes of the law.”

So great and venerable a jurist as Sir Edward Coke has said: “If it be asked, of what arts and sciences a knowledge is necessary for a full knowledge and understanding of our laws, I answer, that since not only laws, but also all arts and sciences, are subjects of jurisprudence, I not only do not exclude any art or science, but I consider a knowledge of every one of them not only useful, but even essential to a lawyer.”

The same sentiment has been since then many times repeated in varying forms by the foremost lawyers and judges of the world, and, like an axiom, stands without contradiction.

I suppose it might safely be said that a law book is any book helpful to the lawyer, the legislator, or the judge.

Though under this interpretation the limitation would take a wide range, I still would suggest, that whatever appropriation is made, be it great or small, it be not limited to any particular class of books.

Under the law, the judges of the Supreme Court are the Directors of the library, and, in connection with the Librarian, select the books purchased for the library; and it seems reasonable that they would better know its needs than the members of the Legislature, for they are in daily communication with it. It would seem wise, therefore, and perfectly safe, to leave the selection of the books to be purchased for the library to their judgment.

I need not speak of the crowded condition of the library, for this cannot be remedied until the new library rooms are finished, and it is probable that this will not be done for about five years. In the meantime the floors will need new linoleum, the old being much worn, in holes in many places, and unsightly at best. The present linoleum was put down in 1883, so that it will have given 10 years service by the time I can get a new one put down. The estimated cost would be as follows:

173 yards of linoleum, @$1.00 (laid).....	$173 00
158 yards of lining, @$0.08 (laid).....	11 34
Necessary repairs to the floor.....	8 00
Total.....	$192 34

I ask for this sum as a deficiency appropriation, that I may make it available as soon as possible.

I have no losses or larcenies or vandalisms to report. As the vandals were all detected before they left the library, and have never been heard of or seen since, of course they have no report to make.

The annexed schedules will show the business of the library in detail for the past biennial period, to July 1, 1892, with the exception of the table heretofore given showing the exchanges, sales, etc., of the Supreme Court Reports. It is a laborious table to make, and an expensive one to print, and besides has heretofore proved of little use. I carry a ledger account with each volume of the Reports, and, by reason of sales and exchanges, these accounts are constantly changing; so I have observed that whenever anybody wishes a statement of the status of a particular volume, he wishes it from the ledger at that time.

The writer of a "Pub. Doc." has not much opportunity for a display of either originality or individuality, and there is nothing of either in this report. The schedules will speak for themselves.

so reduced it that it was scarcely able to stand alone to begin with, and while it was intended to be for the support of the Librarian, he has often been compelled to support the salary.

It was not very robust from the start, and I have often been compelled to walk nights with it when it seemed especially feeble. All can testify that at the times above mentioned, month by month, I have carefully drawn it out, like a sick baby, and had it been strong enough to make it safe I would have drawn it out oftener.

We are mutual friends—my salary and I—and I have stood by it always, though it was small, and it has often staid by me for four or five days at a time—in the first part of a month. I know it is little, but I do not like to hear it abused. A legal friend of mine, (speaking, however, as the agent of another party,) lately characterized my salary as “An estoppel in pay.”

[This is the volume mentioned in my last report as having been loaned to W. D. Webb, of Atchison, Kas., April 16, 1889, and never returned, and which the Librarian proposed to replace in the library at his own cost, as a penalty for having loaned it at all. This I have now done, and therefore no amount is charged against the book fund for its purchase.]

- Goss, N. S., Topeka, Kas.:
 History of the Birds of Kansas, illustrating 529 birds. Topeka, 1891. Q... 1
 This work came to the library, as Mr. Goss's personal gift, on March 5, 1891, the day before his death, and in acknowledgment of its receipt the Librarian wrote him the following letter.
 My regret is he never received it:
 OFFICE OF STATE LIBRARIAN,
 TOPEKA, KAS., March 5, 1891.
 Col. N. S. Goss, Topeka, Kas.:
 MY DEAR GOSS—Personally, and on behalf of the State, I thank you heartily for a copy of your splendid volume, "The History of the Birds of Kansas," kindly donated to the State Library. I am surprised at the size and scope of the work, and did I not know that in its preparation you have been treating yourself to the highest pleasure, I should feel like sympathizing with you on account of the vast amount of labor, research and personal investigation you have evidently bestowed upon it.
 The 529 little feathered friends you have embalmed in it should feel very proud (as they probably do) of the wide introduction you have given them to the great world, and this summer I shall expect to hear them singing pæans of thanks to Goss in louder and sweeter strains than heretofore. This morning I saw and heard a scarlet tanager in my trees, and I thought he was rather premature in his journey north, but he evidently wished to get in early to thank you for your complimentary mention of him, and to show you that you had not overdrawn his beauties. I thought I could see a smile of pride upon the face of the State this morning, over the son who had reflected so much honor upon her.
 Friend Goss, you are the Audubon of the West. May your days be long and honor-crowned, and their sunshine and happiness never disturbed by anything more discordant than the melodious songs of birds.
 But should troubles come, and they may, you can rest in a faith not given to many men, that a million willing wings will be ready to cary you over the rough places.
 Very truly yours, H. J. DENNIS, State Librarian.

To Hon. Lorenzo D. Lewelling, Governor of Kansas:

I herewith respectfully submit the Ninth Biennial Report of the condition of the State Library at the close of the fiscal year ending June 30, 1894.

TOPEKA, August 7, 1894.

H. J. DENNIS,
State Librarian.

Report.

IN the midst of labors as varied as can well be imposed, at a season of the year when most people rest, no matter what their occupation, there comes to me added work and duty. Until the full time covered by my report, namely, June 30, has passed, little can be done upon a report. As that time arrives this year, volume 52, Kansas report, comes out, and of course must be handled at a cost of a full month of precious time. The result is, that at the time when I have usually been able to send my report to the state printer I am only able to commence it. I have worked upon it faithfully in the matter of table making, etc., and now, on this 27th day of July, I am ready to close it and say what I wish. I sit down to do this, and over me comes a strange feeling of mental weariness and difficulty of grouping facts, and when I try to do so it still sounds to me like that of somebody else. My doctor tells me that I need a rest, and should quit work and take it at once, and I realize the truth of it all. I cannot remember that work was ever before so distasteful and uncomfortable to me. Then another peculiar thing occurs to me, I think of something I wish to say and it begins to roll about in my mind, and, when I try to express it, cannot do it twice in the same language nor conveying the same idea. Of course, any way I do express it is unsatisfactory, because there is no way of expressing in one statement the many forms in which it has occurred to me. My only remedy is to abandon it entirely, and on going to another thing to meet the same experience. So it would seem that my mind works harder and with less result than ever before, because of the many forms of composition I really make that are all ultimately discarded. I really feel satisfied I should go fishing.

STORMONT MEDICAL LIBRARY.

Probably the most attractive, as well as useful, collection of books is that of the Stormont Medical Library, which now contains 2,031 volumes. Mrs. Stormont has purchased and added to this set 838 volumes during the past two years. As these will probably end her personal effort to enlarge this library, I thought it best to publish the entire list, which will make this report very useful to medical men and students in the future. I have mentioned this collection heretofore at length and will not now try to say much about it, except that there cannot now be found in the West such a collection of medical books. It is to be hoped that the room for them and the cases can soon be completed and the books removed to it, where their value as well as beauty will be more noticeable. The fund for purchases for this portion of the library now amounts to $1,406.12. It is in the state treasury, and will probably remain there until there is provided room for the final storage and arrangement of this collection. I shall then take pleasure in giving more fully its classification and showing its value. I wish to say, however, that the books are all catalogued and available, but it requires more use of the catalogue and ladder than such a number of books ever before required. At present, a list of those thus far purchased and a short examination will show the necessity of such a catalogue.

LAW REGULATING THE LIBRARY.

To the next legislature I expect to show a form of statute for the general control of the State Library. Let me say that it is the general sentiment of attorneys of the state that there should be one passed. Now there are three different acts, passed at different times, and all in different ways, covering the same subject. I shall ask that these be all repealed, and that, instead, the act I offer be passed. It will be better in one respect: that is, there will be but one act regulating the library. It is the result of a good deal of thought, experience, and investigation, and when attorneys write to the Librarian, as they frequently do, asking him to send them by freight or express, certain books, the statute will be a better answer than he can formulate as to why he does not send them. I regard such an act as a necessity, and hope the one that will be offered will pass.

STORAGE ROOM NEEDED.

I have stated that, when work commenced on the new building, its rooms would be ready for occupancy in two or three years, and so have thus far said nothing about rooms. It is apparent to everybody, however, that we badly need more room. The three main ones used for the library are full of books to the very tops. We have cases in the halls, but these are full, and so with the cases in the rooms across the hall and in the cellar in the new building devoted to books. No contract is as yet let to go ahead with the work on the building; and, the question is, what is to be done? I had expected to be able to use the rooms in the new south wing, should it be necessary, but these are now occupied by the state historical society, and there is no place I know of available for the storage of more books for the State Library. Cases enough might be put up for us in the rooms just south of the library until there is a removal, and probably this would help us out for about two or three years. The necessary new cases would cost from $200 to $300. I hope to see, at this session of the legislature, something done looking towards the early completion of the library, and the supreme court room, and rooms for the judges thereof.

A state library is one that grows rapidly, in number of volumes, from the various state exchanges, as well as from its purchases, and this will probably always be the rule. Some of our states have their books in from two to four different places in the library, because of the number issued. This should not be, but all of the books sent by a state as exchanges should be found together. A party, then, wishing to consult the books from Ohio, only needs to know where the Ohio case is. Something, in the near future, will have to be done to prevent such a distribution of books in the library as to render it almost impossible to know exactly where any particular thing is. Simplicity in the arrangement of the material composing a state library, especially as to its law and documents, is a matter too desirable to admit of disparagement, and it is a subject which I propose to give special attention on the removal of this library.

LIBRARY AND HISTORICAL SOCIETY.

It will be observed that for the past four years we have not received any appropriation beyond $1,000 for book purchases, and that these are limited strictly to law books. The statute authorizing the creation of the State Library became a law March 24, 1870. Section 34 of this act says: "There shall be annually appropriated to the Librarian the sum of $300, to be expended in the purchase of books for the miscellaneous department of the library." This act has never been repealed, and it must be apparent to everybody, now that for four years it has been utterly disregarded, that it is a wise act, and should not only be retained in the statutes, but should be acted upon, and an appropriation made each year. That the historical society is permitted to buy certain miscellaneous books is probably all right, but such permission should not be limited to that society alone. It is not strictly a department of the state; it elects its own officers, though the state pays them their salaries. Its collection would naturally be different from that of the State Library. That the State Library has always been helpful to the historical society, is especially shown by its official action in 1885. The appropriations for every purpose, salary, book purchases, etc., were cut off, and there was little hope of a change. I went over and saw the committee, and then saw certain members, and had them go over and see the judges of the supreme court. The result was, that the appropriation was restored to the bill for all ordinary purposes, and it was, in the main, done by the friends of the library. It cannot therefore with reason be said that the historical society is hostile to the State Library; at least I can see no reason for any hostility.

* * *

At this point something happened to me not illustrated in the text. I felt as if fired out of a Columbiad against a brick wall, and that it was more necessary to get away from Topeka for a short time than anything else. And so my manuscript stops with a dull thud, as can plainly be seen. It does not contain much that I had intended to say. When my next report is due, I hope to be able to say much that may be for the benefit of the library, and in the meantime I hope to do much for it.

*"It will be observed, I suppose (for there is no disguising the fact), that the salary fund is entirely exhausted." This is a quotation from my last report, but it is just as true now as it was then. I had hoped to be able to turn over $12.13 to the state treasurer, and would have done so, but for the fact that long ago it became very apparent to others that the ladder-climbing Librarian needed a new suit of clothes. This want was so apparent to others that it was not long kept from me, and as I always want a good thing in the way of clothes for myself, and as I believe it the duty of state officers to be at least respectably clad, I invested the whole sum in a suit. I am told that if there were no suits among the people there would be no lawyers, so that my action must certainly be encouraging to the lawyers.

As to the salary of Mr. Falls, my assistant, I have never been able to understand why it should be so small. He is efficient and most helpful both to the bench and bar, and knows the library. A knowledge of what he does would convince anybody, it seems to me, that his services are worth not less than $40 per month, and I hope it may be increased to that. The services of no page in the house or senate can be daily equal to his in the Library.

Oahspe. A new Bible, in the words of Jehovah and His angel ambassadors.
A sacred history of the dominions of the higher and lower heavens on the earth for the past 24,000 years, being from the submersion of the continent of Pom in the Pacific ocean, commonly called the flood, or deluge, to the Kosmon era. Also, a brief history of the preceding 55,- 000 years, together with a synopsis of the cosmogony of the universe; the creation of plants; the creation of man; the unseen worlds; the labor and glory of gods and goddesses in the etherean heavens; with the new commandments of Jehovah to man of the present day, with revelation from the second resurrection, formed in words in the 33d year of the Kosmon era. Q. 1891..... 1
